

THE WOOSTER GROUP

Summer Institute – 2017 Application

The Summer Institute typically accepts twelve students between the ages of 12 & 17. Participants are invited to return every year until they graduate from high school. The primary criteria for accepting students is about balancing the group of students in terms of gender, as well as age. We want a range of ages and genders, and these needs change from year to year based on who is returning from the previous summer. We especially seek students who do not have access to diverse arts programming in their schools.
